This morning meet the famous Monkey Mia Dolphins and get some amazing photos. For more than 50 years wild Indo-Pacific bottlenose dolphins have visited the shallows at Monkey Mia. In the 1960s fishers returning to Monkey Mia began sharing their catch with some of the dolphins. Over the years trust grew with more dolphins being fed at the jetty and later the beach.

This encounter is one of the world's great wildlife experiences and attracts more than 100,000 visitors a year. Today dolphins are only fed according to strict guidelines and under supervision of Parks and Wildlife Service officers to ensure the dolphins continue to hunt and behave naturally.

Afterwards continue to explore Shark Bay, wander Eagle Bluff and spot an array of wildlife before arriving into Exmouth in the early evening.

Wandering emus, palm trees laden with screeching cockatoos, and a laid-back air give Exmouth a real Australian charm. Year-round, visitors are drawn by the nearby Ningaloo Reef, with spikes in visitor numbers during the whale-shark season (from April to July) and humpback-whale season (August to October).

Please note on the 19 May 2022 and 11 August 2022 departure dates RAC Exmouth Resort will be used instead of Potshot Hotel & Resort in Exmouth.
